

Dr. Stuart Cowan

Chief Scientist, Smart Cities Council

Michael Zeto

Executive Director of Smart Cities
AT&T

Bas Boorsma

Author, 'A New Digital Deal'
Digitization Lead, North Europe, Cisco

2017 Smart Cities Readiness Challenge Winners

- Charles Brennan, Chief Innovation Officer, Philadelphia
- Kevin Burns, Chief Information Officer, Miami
- Ken Clark, Chief Information Officer, Indianapolis
- Ted Lehr, Data Architect, Austin
- Charles Ramdatt, Smart Cities Director, Orlando

Smart Cities Readiness Challenge 2017

- Launched September 2016
- National competition to find cities ready to make a quantum leap
- US cities, min population 100,000
- Livability, workability, sustainability, and resilience

Winners

Austin, Indianapolis, Miami,
Orlando, Philadelphia

- Grant: Readiness Workshop, Action Plan, In-Kind Products and Services
- National publicity and speaking opportunities

Sponsors
Smart Cities
Readiness
Challenge
2017

- Ameresco – street light audit
- AT&T – IoT starter kits
- CompTIA – premier membership & training
- Dow Building & Construction – building audit
- IDC – smart cities maturity assessment
- Sensus – communication network
- Telit – IoT platform
- TMForum – smart cities benchmarking
- Transdev – transportation consulting

Smart Cities Readiness Challenge 2018

- grants.smartcitiescouncil.com
- Sept – Nov 10, 2017
- Any N. American unit of government
- Minimum population of 100,000
- Livability, workability, sustainability, and resilience
- Grant: Readiness Workshop, Enhanced Readiness Roadmap, Year-round mentoring, In-Kind/Products and Services
- National publicity and speaking opportunities
- Estimated value > $200,000/city

Sponsors
Smart Cities
Readiness
Challenge
2018

- Battelle – smart cities consulting package
- Edison Electric Institute (EEI) – support for city-utility collaboration
- IES – 3D Community Information Model (CIM) for geospatial analysis
- IBI Group – Readiness Workshop support and Readiness Roadmap
- Itron – sponsorship and mentoring
- Qualcomm, Virginia Tech, and CompTIA – Thinkabit Lab™ STEM workforce training
- Sensus – sponsorship and mentoring
- SYNEXXUS – control nodes and software for network of 48 smart street lights

2017 Smart Cities Readiness Challenge Winners

- Charles Brennan, Chief Innovation Officer, Philadelphia
- Kevin Burns, Chief Information Officer, Miami
- Ken Clark, Chief Information Officer, Indianapolis
- Ted Lehr, Data Architect, Austin
- Charles Ramdatt, Smart Cities Director, Orlando

- Please head to the Exhibit Hall for the reception
- See you back here tomorrow at 9 am

Thank you!